

Candidate Training

Can you be civil and still win an election?

What you need to know before (or after) throwing your hat in the political ring

- ◆ What would it be like to run for public office? Or seek a different office?
- ◆ Are you happy the way things are? If not, do you think you could make a difference?
- ◆ As a concerned citizen, would you like to learn more about the political process?
- ◆ 70 percent of those who attended our last workshop and ran for office were elected!

Many opportunities for service to community are in positions that will be elected in this next year.

The class takes the mystery out of political campaigns, and focuses on the basics of campaigning in a non-partisan overview of all things political and will cover such topics as filing, raising money, spending money, voter pamphlets, putting a team together and many others. Attendees will leave with documents on campaign topics.

Speakers, panels and lots of question and answer time are being planned.

If you are a candidate, plan to be one, work on a campaign, or just want to find out more about the entire process, this is the program for you!
